PUBLIC COMMENTS

Leigh Jordan, Executive Vice President, Apple Valley Ranchos Water Company (AVRWC), disputed comments made by John Brown at the August 11, 2015 meeting regarding the CPUC process for rate increases versus the Proposition 218 process.

Council Member Bishop commented on the fact that only AVRWC is asking for a drought surcharge. He asked how many communities are also issuing this surcharge and how many residents are paying the surcharge.
Mr. Jordan responded stating he was not in a position to list all the water purveyors in the state and that he could not answer whether or not they were charging a surcharge. He stated that residents whose water usage was over the allotment set by the actual residential use in 2013 were charged the surcharge. He stated that he could provide the actual information of those residences if the Council desired.

Mayor Pro Tem Stanton commented on her attendance at the water conference held last Friday, August 21, 2015. She learned there was water reliability until the year 2035 and wanted to know why we jumped directly to Stage 2, which implements penalties for water usage.

Mr. Jordan responded that AVRWC went to Stage 2 to allow room to revert to Stage 1 if it looked as though it would be hitting its target of water use reductions. AVRWC has many customers who use a large amount of water for outdoor consumption, which is substantially more than the average customer uses. The State Water Resources Control Board targeted those consumers who use the most water and implemented the requirement of a surcharge. Every dollar collected would offset those surcharges in the upcoming year.

Mayor Cusack stated that the money for the drought surcharge was not being given to the State but was being returned to Apple Valley Ranchos for future surcharge reductions.

Council Member Nassif requested Mr. Jordan provide the Town Council with a list of other water purveyors who also charge a drought surcharge at the next meeting.

Council Member Emick asked Mr. Jordan how the public is able to obtain information from AVRWC to learn about the fixed costs, money going back and forth, and its comments that it is tracking surcharges.

Mr. Jordan stated that the CPUC has experienced staff that can provide members of the public with information on the requirements that it places on water companies to assist it with findings, work papers and documentation. This information must be provided to the CPUC to track all of the numbers.

Chuck Hanson, Apple Valley, stated that he was disappointed with the actions of the Town Council and urged them to not support the acquisition of Apple Valley Ranchos Water Company.

Council Member Bishop responded stating that he knew and understood that Mr. Hanson did not live in the Apple Valley Ranchos Water District area. He asked whether Mr. Hanson’s water purveyor charged a drought surcharge.

Mr. Hanson stated that he did not pay the water bill.

David Mueller, Apple Valley, asked everyone to go to the State Water Resources Control Board to review its June 2015 Water Supplier Conservation Compliance Reports. Of all the suppliers of water, the only company in compliance with the state’s mandate is AVRWC. Mr. Mueller also complained about the Town’s slow response to water conservation efforts and what he believes is a slow response to his records requests.
